

Vantage Engineering Corporate Safety Policy

Vantage Engineering is fully committed to creating and maintaining an atmosphere of safety in all aspects of its business.

We will conduct our operations in a manner that protects the health and safety of our employees, contractors, clients, public, and the environment.

We will comply with the intent and specific requirements of all applicable health and safety laws and legislation.

We will not knowingly place workers or the public at risk, and will not support any decision that compromises safety for the sake of any other business objective.

We will continue to monitor, evaluate, and improve policies and operating practices taking into account changes in laws and regulations, technical developments, industry standards and Vantage's operations.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Compliance with the law and Vantage's Policies and Practices are the responsibility of every worker (employees and contractors), and is a condition of employment. Everyone has the right and responsibility to refuse to do work when unsafe conditions exist.

It is the responsibility of Management and Supervisors to identify safety needs, and provide access to leadership, training, equipment, and materials to properly fulfil these needs.

Individuals who do not fulfill their responsibilities to safety will be held accountable, and may be liable under the law.

Through commitment, diligence, and fulfillment of responsibilities, our organization, staff, and communities will all share in the benefits of a safe workplace.
